

The Marching Knights 2022 “Commitment to Excellence” is a firm commitment to the following:

Eligibility

Any NRCA student in grades 9-12 is eligible to try out for the Marching Knights whether or not they are enrolled in band as a class. Although marching band is a high school activity, middle school students may try out with director approval. Middle school students not enrolled in band as a class are not eligible to participate in marching band. Middle school students who are taking private instruction on piano may be considered for pit percussion upon director approval and recommendation from their piano teacher.

Attendance

Our group achievement is dependent on the contribution of each individual in performance as well as rehearsal. A conscious decision has already been made to keep required rehearsal and performance times to a minimum. Members have the opportunity to enjoy participation in an ensemble that maintains a tradition of excellence with a fraction of the time commitment required by similar ensembles. With this in mind, you owe it to the group to be present and punctual for every rehearsal and performance. As a member, you have an obligation to the group, so please plan your schedules accordingly and be conscious to maintain your academic eligibility. If a major life event warrants excuse, the “Marching Knights Excuse Request” form must be submitted as far in advance as practically possible. Consequences for unexcused absence or tardy may include: being sidelined for performance(s), reassignment of parts, loss of roles, loss of position or privilege, and grade reduction or even dismissal from the ensemble among other things. Attendance infractions during camp will forfeit the free admission for the August amusement park reward trip (that is normally covered by the band). Remember that group excellence is heavily dependent on the most fundamental elements of personal character. It all boils down to dependability and responsibility. Attendance is at the core of your commitment and should be heavily reflected on before any student or parent signs the membership agreement.

Be Prepared!

Be sure to have everything you need (instrument, music, drill, uniform accessories, etc.) for every rehearsal and/or performance. Keep up with all schedules, announcements and official group emails so that you will know how to be prepared. It should also be obvious that, members are committed to knowing their music and/or to seek help with music from staff or leadership.

Chain of Command

If you have a question, ask your section leader. If the section leader does not know, ask a band captain or field commander (they know everything). Use the chain of command and follow the chain of command. If your section leader or an officer asks you to do something, assume the request is from the director.

Respect

Respect is critical to the operation and function of any organization. For this reason, the utmost respect is to be shown to all members, officers and staff. Respect must flow up and down the entire chain of command. Remember that it is not all about you! (Philippians 2:3)

Rain

There is a very good possibility that you could get wet this marching season. Do not assume anything is cancelled unless you get your information directly from a field commander, staff member or an official group email sent by the Marching Knights communications coordinator.

Performances and Travel

Please remember that the group will travel together as a group to and from all off-campus events. For those rare occasions that a member must return early, a prior written request must be given to the director at least a day in advance for approval. Members should not leave a rehearsal, performance or any group activity before their parent checks them out with the director.

Uniforms and Equipment

When in uniform, you represent your band, your school and the Lord Jesus Christ. For this reason, members are not permitted to wear uniforms haphazardly. Only full uniform is acceptable unless the entire group receives specific “dress down instructions” from the director, field commander or band captain.

School uniforms and equipment are expected to be treated better than if they were your own. Uniforms are expected to be kept performance ready at all times and must be neatly stored in the provided bags. Uniforms should never be stored wet! In cases of abuse or neglect, members will be charged for any lost or damaged uniform or equipment components. Any uniform or equipment problems must be brought to the attention of the appropriate band officer as soon as possible and also documented on the appropriate form following the performance or practice in which the damage is discovered. Seasonal uniform accessories such as t-shirts, hats, guard jewelry or similar items must be safely and securely maintained during the season or replacement cost will fall upon the student.

Students will be fined $5.00 for any portion of their uniform or equipment that is not properly stored or returned following a performance or rehearsal. This includes garment bags and hangers before and after a performance. Due to limited facilities, the band room cannot be used for storage of personal items throughout the season. Students may also be fined for personal items not properly stored or not claimed in a timely manner. (See next page for a complete list of fines).

Drumline and Guard

The guard and drumline members are not only key to the overall success of the Marching Knights but are in every respect a specialized “ensemble” of their own.

For this reason, there may be extra rehearsal requirements outside of the full ensemble time. These will be scheduled with group consensus to create as little conflict as possible but may require a sacrifice that is beyond that of other members. It should be noted that, due to the extra requirements and specialized instructions, Drumline and Guard members are generally not able to participate in a fall sport and still fulfill the necessary practice and performance obligations.

Your stewardship of God's blessings is valued and essential. (1 Cor. 4:2)

Thank you for your help!

Students are responsible for the basic care and maintenance of all assigned equipment and season accessories such as hats, shoes, t-shirts, guard, jewelry, etc. Damaged or lost items will be assessed according to replacement costs.

A fine system is utilized to help emphasize some of the most basic yet crucial, policies and procedures aimed at protecting equipment and ensuring group effectiveness. Fines will be assessed as follows:

$1 Fines:

- Unattended personal items (music, books, bags, instrument accessories, etc.)

$5 Fines

- Uniform infractions (improper storage, care, reporting or maintenance)
- Instrument care infractions (improper storage, care, reporting or maintenance)
- Marching/personal shoes left in room
- Unattended instruments out of defined storage areas
- Unlabeled instrument cases (personal or school)

November (Continued)

Morning Parade Practice

Nov. 1, 3, 8, 15, 17

7:00am – 7:45am

(Note: Drumline/Guard may have extra rehearsals and some November rehearsals may be eliminated for the horn line depending on progress)

Wednesday Afternoon Parade Practices

Nov. 2, 9, 16

3:30pm – 5:00pm

11/19

Raleigh Christmas Parade

Schedule TBA**

**Band Members should not schedule any other activities on these days since these are major performances and final schedules are not posted until right before these events. Quite often, the band is expected to arrive at the school early and may not return until 11:00 pm (except for the Parade where we will be done by 4pm). Consider these FULL DAY events. It is imperative that seniors schedule their SAT and ACT tests accordingly around major performances.

Marching Knights Game/Rehearsal Day
